

than hinder and embarrass!
There might have been a time when this terrorism <sup>may</sup> have been serviceable, but has not that time past? Is it not unwise to stir up any element that may array thousands of minds and hearts against a scheme they might under a milder régime <sup>have</sup> been disposed to favor?
Excuse me. I have too long intruded upon your time. If it were known that I had written this letter it would at once be determined that it was "interference with military rule," and I should have to suffer the penalty. Yet duty is stronger than fear and justice right and humanity are stronger in their claims than merely personal considerations.

If my letter is not in place forgive me and let the wife and young daughters of my friend with almost broken hearts plead for justice to a husband - a father - a grey haired minister of Jesus. I say "justice" for it is justice to guard a man from punishment he does <sup>not</sup> deserve.

Do, not if you can let the <sup>writer</sup> be involved in this matter, further than a ~~desire~~ <sup>wish</sup> that that which he would desire to be done to himself under the light of truth justice and humanity in the same condition, may be done to that friend, for whom he pleads.

Yours very respectfully
W. H. Andrews
